

we're far enough away from everyday...but not too far to make getting back a strain.

wyckhillhouse nestles in the rolling hills of gloucestershire's cotwolds market town of stow-on-the-wold. the name itself conjures up images of typical english stone cottage laden villages, and indeed it is, but it's also just 50 minutes south of birmingham, 20 miles from the m40 oxford junction, and 1.5 hours from london by car or train, so it makes getting here easy.

fromthenorth: exit m40 jnc 15 a429 to Cirencester (25 miles). go through stow-on-the-wold (a429 Cirencester). 1 mile, steep decent, take left fork before traffic lights, a424 Burford 1 mile, entrance on right, steep ascent.

fromthesouth: m40 exit jnc 8 a40 Cheltenham (15 miles). a424 to Burford then Stow (5 miles), entrance on left on top of a steep decent.

wyckhillhouse is, like its heritage, a contradiction. classic, contemporary, imposing and friendly.
